

44 HARSH TRUTH ABOUT HUMAN NATURE

~ Nava I

1. Not wanting something is as good as having it.
2. Two ^{paths} to success Happiness -
 - Success - you get what you want
 - you don't want it in the 1st place
3. Being happier can actually make you more successful but your defⁿ of success will change along the way.
4. The reason to win the game is to be free of it.
5. Successful people mostly say 'the journey was the fun part and I should have enjoyed it more (it's their common regret)'
6. "I would have done everything the same except with less anger less emotion less internal suffering bcz it was optional, it was necessary"
7. Someone who can do the job peacefully & more happily is going to be more effective.
8. The journey is not only the reward, it is the only thing there is.
9. Money solves all your money problems it's good to have money.
10. People who break their back & people who won a lottery are back to their baseline happiness two years later.
11. Money buys you happiness if you earned it.
12. YOU HAVE TO ENJOY THE JOURNEY ITS ALL WHAT THERE IS.
13. If you want to be successful you have to be choosing about your desires.
14. Wanting to be famous → TRAP → better is earned fame
15. All learning is error correction → making the guess & correcting the errors.
16. What world lacks right now is Authenticity (quality of being genuine or real)

17. You only want the respect of the very very few people that you respect. Trying to demand respect from the masses is a fool's errand.
18. People always want what they don't have, once they get wealthy they need status.
19. There's never been easier time create wealth bcz there's so much leverage/opportunity. You still have to go find it its not easy
20. People will always want more status
21. You are hardwired not to love what you have.
22. The worst outcome in the world is not having self esteem. Self esteem is the reputation you have with yourself.
23. To create love is to give love to express love through sacrifice & through duty.
24. If you want to have high self esteem then earn your own self respect.
25. Treat yourself like you want others to be treated you.
26. The most expensive trait is PRIDE. Pride is the enemy of learning
27. The great artists always have this ability to start over. Always be willing to start over.
28. Willingness to look like a fool. Willingness to start over.
29. Aligning with the things that make you happy makes you more successful
30. Don't Do something you don't wanna do
31. "I'm keenly aware how little time I have so I'm not gonna waste it."
32. "I just go, I just disappear"
33. This over schedule life is not worth living.

34. When you are inspired to do something do that thing
"If I'm inspired to write that tweet, I do it now."
35. The moment that curiosity arrives I go learn that thing immediately. Figure that thing out on the spot that's when learning happens.
36. You're gonna learn best when you're having fun. All the stuff that sticks with you, you learned it when you wanted to when you genuinely had the desire.
37. Spontaneity → recipe of happiness
↳ freedom to do what you wanna do
38. Obsessive attention to detail is ~~obsessive~~ competitive advantage of your work.
39. No 1 is going to beat you at being you. The more you do things that are natural to you the less competition you have.
40. YOU ESCAPE COMPETITION THROUGH AUTHENTICITY by being your own self.
41. The biggest mistake in a world with so many choices is premature commitment.
42. Closing yourself like a hermit. Integrated self prioritization.
43. View your own mind, own thoughts objectively
↳ MEDITATION → long walks are even okay
42. It becomes a problem in your mind, first you have to view it & interpret it & create a narrative that it is a problem before it becomes a problem. You'll realise that a lot of your emotional energy is spent on reacting to things that your mind is automatically saying are problems.
43. Define success ^{very} concretely focus on that → for success.
42. Happiness, focus & success → complement each other.

MENTAL ENERGY

Not time but lots & lots of iteration

45. Before anything can be a problem that takes up your emotional energy you have to accept it as a problem. You can be choosy about your problems.
46. A rational person should cultivate indifference (lack of interest/concern) to things that are out of their control. true measure of
47. The only intelligence is if you get what you want out of life. 2 parts of that -
 - (a) getting what you want
 - (b) wanting the right things
48. Not 10,000 hours but 10,000 iterations. Iteration → modifying iter repetition with a learning & then doing another version of it, i.e. error correction.
49. Cynicism & Pessimism → were hardwired for it.
50. Modern Society is far more forgiving of failure
51. You're much more running a search function to find the thing that'll work and then that 1 thing will pay off in massive compounding
52. The number of failure doesn't matter if you found that one
53. As long as I learned something from it then it's a win if I didn't learn from it, it is a loss.
54. It's better just to look at problem at hand. Look at reality the way it is. Try to take yourself out of equation in a sense
55. It's better to stay flexible (don't define yourself) because reality is always changing. You have to adapt to it. Adaptation is also intelligence.
56. Happiness → just being okay with where you are.
 - ↳ Not having a sense that anything is missing in the moment

Less to think about yourself.

57. Pleasure can override happiness & make kind of this illusion of happiness.
58. If it leaves your mind clearer at the end of it then it is worthwhile.
59. Detachment → is byproduct of just realizing what matters & what doesn't
60. Everybody craves thinking about something more than themselves.
61. Overthinking about yourself → Cause of depression.
62. "I don't even think in terms of happiness or unhappiness I just kinda do my thing"
63. You can't follow other person's path of success.
64. People who were extremely successful didn't sit around watching success porn.
65. It's the overwhelming desire that's the most important & the focus that comes from that.
66. You don't need mentor you need action. People who are good at attaining wealth don't have the need to teach it to others.
67. If you don't lie awake at night, thinking about it you don't want it ^{badly} enough.
68. "I don't fog myself over things, if I wanna sleep I'll sleep, if I don't wanna sleep I don't. I don't think I'm doing anything right or wrong". You don't label it good or bad
69. If it's important to me, I'll just do it
70. A lot of change is all about desire & understanding them it is about forcing yourself
71. It's about not getting caught up in a half desire or a mimetic desire it's just being aware of what it is that you actually want at this pt in time
72. Half Hearted efforts don't get you there.

73. Mind is under stress → it has 2 conflicting desires at once → acknowledge it.

74. Each moment → has literally all the meaning in the world.

What matters is being present for the thing.

75. If you're doing something that you want to do & you're fully there for it → that is not wasted time.

If you're not immersed in this moment then you're wasting your time.

76. It's better just not to have any interpretations.

It's a thing that can leave alone.

77. Be observant of yourself more objectively.

78. Old success people will tell you their life was best when they lived it unapologetically on their own terms. Be selfish.

79. Lust feelings → develops over time, trust that our mind.

80. You can't change other people, you can change your rxn to them.

81. Fastest way to alienate somebody is to tell them to change.

82. If you want someone to change the effective way is to compliment them when they do something you want.

83. When somebody does something praiseworthy don't forget to praise them, it has to be genuine.

84. The more materially & concretely definable the reasons are you're together the weaker they are.

85. Everybody craves unity, connection.

86. "Ability to walk away from situations that are just not great enough for you, I will not accept second best outcomes in my life."

87. Take the path that's more painful in the short term.

route

88. The better to go → more mental peace in long term whatever cleans your mind more.
89. Secret to a happy relationship is two happy people. Don't think that you're with who's unhappy & then make them happy down the road.
90. Hardest thing in the world: starting over, back to zero.
91. The diff b/w successful people & I who are not is successful people want it so badly they're willing to go back & start over again and again.
92. The more seriously you're gonna take yourself the less happy you'll be.
93. Don't think about yourself too much.
94. "Be less emotional, don't take everything so seriously, do the same things but w/o the emotional turbulence" & achieve to past self.
95. Understanding is way more important than discipline. In physical things discipline is " on mental things understanding is more imp.
96. When we see something clearly it changes our behavior immediately.
97. When you see things in such a way that you can't unsee 'em that changes your behavior instantly & that introspection to find these truths is actually very useful.
98. wisdom → set of things that cannot be transmitted. You have to learn it for yourself it has to be rediscovered it for yourself.
99. Always overpay & expect the best.
100. Best use of money → take risk & build things & do things that other people can't do, align it with your own unique talent.
101. If you have truly deep understanding about something you can talk about it all day long.

Freedom!

102. If you understand something you don't have to memorize it.
 103. Don't answer the ques at level at which it wasn't asked.
 104. Creative side of coding doesn't go away. Rather than computing solving programming, programmers use AI to replace everybody else.
 105. Real currency of life is attention, its what you choose to pay attention to.
 106. Cultivate appreciation & gratitude for what you have.
 107. There is nothing worse in the society than a lazy man bcz he's having his potential on the table.
 108. More resources you have more you can take care of bigger tribe.
 109. Alpha is not the one who eat first but he after male eat last, he feeds everybody else first & then gets to eat lastly & they do that out of their own self respect & pride.
 110. Expect Nothing.
 111. The reason to win the game is to be free of it.
- 2 min rule → if a task will take less than 2 min to complete, do it immediately.